

Friday, 9th of March 2012 • 11.30 am to 5.30 pm

GLOBAL HEALTH AND SOCIAL EQUITY

Proposals and international debates for a radical change in politics

Friday, 9th of March 2012 • main building, Technische Universität Berlin

---

11.30 am to 1 pm

On the world health situation

Two exemplary initiatives: The Global Health Watch 3 and the People's Health Assembly 3.

A critical view on world health and it's actors: the Global Health Watch 3.

David McCoy, People's Health Movement, Public Health Director at Primary Care Trust NHS Hammersmith and Fulham and Centre for International Health and Development, University College, London/Great Britain

On the way to the third People's Health Assembly. The global gathering of health activists in South Africa.

Remco van der Pas, People's Health Movement, WEMOS Foundation, Amsterdam/The Netherlands.

Moderation: Andreas Wulf, medico international, Frankfurt/Main

---

2.15 – 3.45 pm

Health as a common in public responsibility.

The social being and the right of access to health care.

The concept of social infrastructure for health – more then surgeries and hospitals.

Nadja Rakowitz, Society of Democratic Doctors Germany, Maintal/Germany

After the revolution: chances for access to health for all.

Alaa Shukrallah, People's Health Movement, AHED/Association for Health and Environmental Development, Cairo/Egypt

Moderation: Kirsten Schubert, medico international, Frankfurt/Main

---

4.15 to 5.45 pm

Participation and Governance

Who is sitting in the boat and who is navigating it?

Who does belong to a global health round table and who does not.

Thomas Gebauer, Executive Director medico international, Frankfurt a.M./Germany

Participation in the name of the patient.

Gregor Bornes, patient representative at the Federal Joint Committee

Being a part of the multilateral shaping of globalisation?

Ilona Kickbusch, Global Health Programme, Graduate Institute for International and Development Studies, Geneva

Moderation: Anja Dieterich, Diakonie Bundesverband, Berlin